

Wednesday, September 15, 2004

Duxbury Clipper

Jumping at Blue Fish

Jumpers head into the water at high tide at the Blue Fish River.

Heads pop up out of the water as swimmers go to the float for another jump.

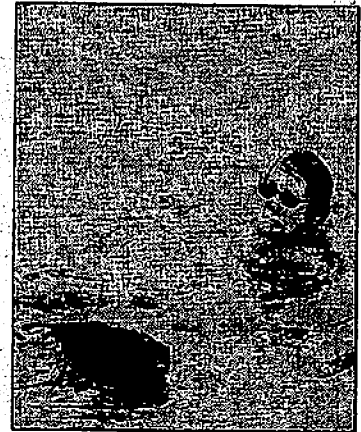

Barbara and Sarah Palfrey watch over the swimmers from their rowboat.

Photos by DENI JOHNSON

Everyone has their own style of plunging in.

This swimmer paddles along with her dog.

Jumping off the float by the bridge provides another refreshing place to swim.